

The duties of the association

Some of the most important duties of the Carinthian Association of Municipalities are:

- looking after the interests of its members

- advising and representing the member municipalities on matters of administrative and economic duties

- cooperating with the Austrian Association of Municipalities

- the information and further education of the municipal mandataries and the civil servants

The execution of the duties of the Carinthian Association of Municipalities is implemented in particular by:

- reporting on proposals appertaining to federal and provincial laws and decrees which affect municipal administration and economic interests;

- drafting and submission of requests, reports and applications to the responsible provincial authorities; also as an authorized representative of individual municipalities;

- advising and representing members in matters of law, tax and economic affairs, and assisting in drafting the municipal accounts;

representing municipalities in commissions, advisory councils and the like;

organizing conferences and other pertinent events;

providing training courses dealing with all pertinent municipal matters;

issuing informative printed matter on all affairs appertaining to the purpose of the association, and cooperating in producing publications purporting the same and similar objectives;

ongoing contact with municipal associations of the same nature in the other federal provinces;

making regular progress reports to the Austrian Association of Municipalities
